SETTLEMENT REACHED IN

THE KELLY ESTATE

Appeals Will Be Withdrawn, Account of Administrator Is Accepted and He Will Continue Until Distribution.Before Judge Ayling in the probate court on Tuesday an agreement was reached in regard to the Timothy Kelly estate, which has been before the court for three years because of numerous suits by parties interested made in proceeding the estate.It was decided to withdraw the appeal from the decision of Judge Ayling in following the administrator's account and other bills. D. S. Gilmore, the administrator, who resigned, thereupon agreed to remain until the estate is wound up without further expense to the estate. His account was accrued to W. S. Allen, John McWilliam and Charles O. Murphy were named as distributors. If convenient for them the distribution will take place this week."I don't believe there is anything in what the judges say," said the joyful monographer. "My daughter has been a stenographer four years now, and I have never heard her say to marry him yet."—Detroit Free Press.

The Charities Question Unsettled

Brought Out at Men's League Meeting—Prison Life Discussed by Warden Garvin of State Prison.

Invited by the Men's league of the Central Baptist church to meet to hear Warden Albert Garvin of the Connecticut state prison at Wethersfield, an audience of about 150 men was presented on Tuesday evening in Bushnell chapel, including representatives from the men's organizations of the other city churches, enjoying an interesting talk on prison matters from the warden.President Gilbert S. Raymond of the Central Baptist Men's league expressed the opening welcome, and then Rev. Mr. Wright made reference to the citizens' committee which some time ago had taken up the matter of investigation of the administration of charity in Norwich, and he suggested that a statement from them might be given at this meeting. Instead of calling a gathering especially to hear the warden, he called upon B. Bishop and Rev. C. A. Northrop, the two other members of the committee, to make reports.Mr. Bishop spoke first, telling of meetings of the committee and also of a conference with the civic committee, the board of trade and the committee with the selectmen. He said that it seemed they could not do much in the way of doing anything for the selectmen and the United Veterans.Rev. Mr. Northrop followed him and told of the committee's work and the whole thing was being shut up and checked off and he wished to enter his protest against it. He said the selectmen had at first expressed themselves as favoring the commission idea and they have been associated with him in investigating cases, but nothing had been heard from them since, and they are not availing themselves of the help offered. It seems that somebody doesn't want a saving to be made. He said he had been refusing for a job for himself in this matter, as had been suggested by some people. It seemed impossible to get a meeting of the committee to get the matter discussed.John H. Burton spoke briefly, saying that a petition signed by 150 veterans would make the selectmen sit up and take notice, and he moved that such a petition be drawn up.

This motion was later withdrawn after the warden's address.

The regularity of life, food, sleep and fair treatment in prison life, said the warden, was the best thing he had known of in the last century, giving the audience stood up and acknowledged that he had at one time been in Wethersfield.In answer to some questions at the close of the address, he praised the Connecticut Prisoners' Aid association as

the best in the world, and said that it was rarely he spoke of his "boys"
